This year we are limiting the number of acts to 30 bands. That makes time slots for performances much longer and will allot better crowd attention and support as well as better stage time for the performers. Our preliminary estimate per act is approximately 25 minutes. This time may increase or decrease due to many factors, although we are assuming that the time can only go up from here. The café and acoustic stage schedules are more lenient. Would you prefer the café, gym, or acoustic stage?
